Class History

History has a remarkable tendency to repeat itself and to a certain extent the history of the class of 1942 is not different from the history of the previous classes.

Since history to many people is rather dull, that of the class of 1942 will be as brief as possible and relate only the significient events.

In 1931 our school career began. Through the years, new ones have been added and some of the original members have dropped our for various reasons.

We were introduced to high school for the first time in the month of July, 1938. We had a class roll of 47. We early became acquainted with the different surroundings and enjoyed the new life very much.

We took part in a few social events. Mrs. Cashion and Mr. Colvard were our home room teachers.

With more knowledge and experience we entered the second stage of our journey in the summer of 1939. Our class still remained large though several dropped our before that year was completed.

Our number was further reduced during our junior year. Mr. John W. Phillips became our home room teacher. Outstanding events of the year were the presentation of the play "Tommy Takes a Wife," and the theater party and weiner roast given several weeks before school closed, in honor of the senior class.

In the summer of 1941 we began the last part of our journey, which is rapidly drawing to a close.

Miss Flowe has served as our senior sponsor. From the original 47 our number has been reduced to 30.

The following have served as our senior officers: President, Roland Hartis; Vice President, Mary Kate Simpson; Secretary, Doris Thompson; Treasurer, John Brown Fincher.

In athletics we have had our share of stars. Watsie Starnes, Mary Kate Simpson, Doris Thompson, Jessie Nell Richardson, and Edith Horton were on our girls team. Bartley Benton, Joneal Broome, James Vickery, Charles Wayne Rowell, John Brown Fincher, were on the boys' team. As coaches, Miss Brewer and Mr. Lewis have served us.

We are proud of our scholastic attainment. In the National Honarary Beta Club, we have the following members: Roland Hartis, Lois Thompson, Nelson Helms, Mary Frances Moore, Mary Kate Simpson, Mayo Huneycutt, Doris Thompson, Marie Foard, Kathleen Hargette and Verla Mae Honeycutt.

The Beta Club presented a very interesting play entitled "Mrs. Tubbs of Shanty Town", on December 17.

The first chapter of the history of the class of 1942 has been briefly recorded. We sincerely hope that the chapters which are to follow will be as memorable as the one which has just ended.

Class Poem

We started together about nineteen hundred and thirty-two.
We're still together and it's nineteen forty-two.
We've had experiences we'll n'er forget--
We'll leave the school to continue our journey to the "Golden Gate".

We'll soon be parting to tread a new and different path of life.
We'll try to be successes as our teachers have taught.
Even amidst this war and strife,
We'll still seek the goals which we have sought.

-- Lois Thompson

Social Notes

The Seniors enjoyed a delightful swimming party and water melon feast at Sustar's pool, in Matthews, during the first of July.

Edith Horton entertained the class at a wiener roast and Hallowe'en party at her home on Thursday night, October 30.

The following members were present: Edith Horton, Jessie Neil Richardson, Marie Foard, Mary Kate Simpson, Doris Thompson, Verla Mae Honeycutt, Watsie Starnes, Betty Crowell, Kathleen Hargette, Margaret Joyce Drye, Miss Flowe, Wayne Rowell, Joneal Broome, Paul Stinson, Charles Wayne D'Hollosy, and James Vickery.

The Beta Club banquet was held in the home economics room on December 17. A color scheme of silver and red was carried out in room and table decorations.

Mr. C. C. Burris, of Wingate, gave the after-dinner speech.

The Auditorium was transformed into an outdoor setting for the formal Junior-Senior banquet which was given on March 11.

Mary Kate Simpson, Doris Thompson, Verla Mae Honeycutt, Mary Frances Moore, Edith Harkey, Roland Hartis, and Miss Flowe attended the State convention of Beta Clubs in Raleigh, March 6-8.

The following members of our class have married during the school year: Helen Faulk to Hubert Flowe, Mary Helms to Seab Helms, Lois Pressley to Carl Byrun, and Naomi Bandy to Oscar Lee Simpson.

PROPHECY

We arrived in New York City on Monday morning. Before starting our tour, we stopped at the corner drug store to see John Brown Fincher who was chief soda-jerker. After chatting a while with him, we called on the assistant manager at N. B. C. News room. He was none other than Roband Hartis. Watsie Starnes was an employee of N. B. C. We discovered that one of our correspondents in Berlin was Rhyne Maness.

After leaving the newsroom, we decided to go to the show which was featuring Lois H. Thompson, under a screen name, Fifi La Perile. Playing opposite her was Jack Secrest whose screen name was Pierre Mazart. Sports news in the picture showed Charles W. Rowell as the manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers. His catcher we found to be James Vickery.

At New York University we found Mayo Honeycutt and Kathleen Hargette as Deans of Women. Doris Thompson held the position as athletic instructor.

At a news stand on Times Square we were tempted to buy a "Charlotte Observer". The social page revealed a double wedding which had been solemnized in Inian Trail. The brides were Katheryn and Gladys Porter. As we turned the pages, we found that Paul Stinson was editor of thd "Charlotte Observer." Nelson Helms and Bessie Mae Stevens were assistant editors.

An immense clock on the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company attracted our attention. We drew near and entered this magnificient structure. There we discovered Mary Kate Simpson and Verla Mae Honeycutt as stenographers.

Our stay in the world's largest city had come to an end. We soon found ourselves at the railroad station where Joneal Broome greeted us. He was engineer of a train which traveled from New York to Miami. In front of the railway station a familiar name attracted us. It was Demp McCleod's Furniture Store. Margaret Joyce Drye was interior decorator.

Our train was soon speeding South. We stopped over in Philadelphia for a day. We were happy to find a sign--Charles Wayne D'Hollosy--Criminal Lawyer. He told us that Bartley Benton was serving as Chairman of the Pennsylvania Historial Commission, located in Philadelphia. We learned that Edith Horton was director of the Y. W. C. A.

Before we scarcely knew it we were in Washington. We were happy to find that Mary Francis Moore was Dean of Women at National Cathedral. Marie Foard headed the Music department of the same social institution.

Going into a large department store, we found Louise Pinyon and Ruth Tyson as clerks. They told us about seeing "Love Without Laughter", with Jessie Nell Righardson as dramatic director. While talking with Louise and Ruth, we saw a famaliar figure coming down the aisle. We were delighted to see Willie Mae Bandy. She explained that she was secretary to one of our North Carolina Senators.

Our visit was a most happy one. We resolved forth with to return to New York the following year where we hoped to unite our class for such an occasion as we daily experienced in the years long past.

Eighth: We, Doris Thompson and Charles Wayne Rowell, do will to Alma Harris, Verla Ruth Helms and Billie Flowe, our popularity.

Nineth: I, Kathryn Porter, do leave to Peggy Jean Drye, my place as class baby.

Tenth: I, Verla Mae Honeycutt, do will to Martha Ferris Helms my influential ability.

Eleventh: I, Lois Thompson, do will to Ada Duncan my ability to sing well.

Twelfth: I, Watsie Starnes, do will to Isabel Secrest my dignified qualities.

Thirteenth: I, Kathleen Hargette, do will to Virginia Broomw my dependable characteristics.

Fourteenth: I, James Vickery, do will to Frank Hayes, my good looks.

Fifteenth: I, Paul Stinson, do give to Thurman Williams my courteous ways.

Sixteenth: I, Rhyne Maness, do will to Joe Benton Hartis my industrious qualities.

Seventeenth: We, Mary Kate Simpson and Charles Wayne D'Hollosy, will our neat appearances to Mabl Hand and Claude Moore.

Eighteenth: We, Ruth Tyson, Bessie Mae Steve and Louise Pinyon, will to our attentive attitudes in class to the girls of our present sophomore class.

Nineteenth: I, Gladys Porter, will to Edith Harkey, my friendly disposition.

Twentieth: I, Mayo Huneycutt, hereby will my position as Teachers' pet to Stacie Joe Plyler.

Lastly: We, the Senior Class of 1942, do give our thanks to Miss Flowe and Mr. Broome for the help and guidance they have given us during our high school years.

We do set our hand and seal to the document this the seventeenth day of April, in the year of our Lord, One thousand nine hundred and forty-two,
